

MR. SC. MUHAMED FAZLOVIĆ

Mr. sc. Muhamed Fazlović is a senior teaching assistant at the Chair of Tafsir (Qur'an Interpretation) at the Faculty of Islamic Studies (Fakultet islamskih nauka) of the University of Sarajevo. He was born in 1985 in Maoča near Brčko. He finished both the elementary school (in his hometown and Himberg near Vienna – Lower Austria) and the secondary school (Behram bey's madrasa in Tuzla) as the best pupil in his class. He graduated in Islamic theology (Bachelor of Arts) in 2008 at the Faculty of Islamic Studies. He was awarded the Golden Badge of the University of Sarajevo for the best student in his class. He obtained the academic degree of Master of Arts in Religions and Cultures (magistrum in religionum culturarumque studiis) with a specialization in Christian religion (cum specializatione in religione christiana) at the Institute for Interdisciplinary Studies of Religions and Cultures (Istituto di Studi Interdisciplinari su Religioni e Culture - ISIRC) at the Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome (Pontificia Università Gregoriana). He is the co-author of the multiple award-winning book The One: One Book for Peace (Sarajevo/Belgrade: Interreligious Council in BiH/New Moment, 2017). In competition from 46,000 entries, this book was awarded seven Cannes Lions at the International Festival of Creativity "Cannes Lions" as the largest festival of its kind in the world. He translated into Bosnian the books: ISIS: Inside the Army of Terror (Sarajevo: Buybook, 2015) and A Muslim and a Christian in Dialogue (Sarajevo: El-Kalem, 2024) with an extensive foreword by the translator under the title "Interreligious friendships after studying at the Gregoriana in Rome". He also did an Islamic theological proofreading of the book What should Christians know about Muslims for mutual respect? [ABC per capire i Musulmani] (Sarajevo/Zagreb: Catholic Faculty of Theology/Glas Koncila, 2019). He is the author or co-author of book chapters published in the Yearbook of Muslims in Europe (Leiden: Brill, 2016 and 2017), as well as a significant number of scientific, professional and review papers published in domestic and international journals and proceedings. He appeared in the media and participated in significant scientific gatherings, symposia, (inter-religious) conferences, seminars and round tables as a presenter or key speaker. Mr. sc. Fazlović actively speaks, writes and reads English, Arabic, German, French and Italian, and uses Latin, biblical Greek and biblical Hebrew for scientific purposes. He attended language specializations and study programs in Cairo, Tunis, Cambridge and Arezzo (Italy). In Cairo (2008) and Tunisia (2019), he spent six months studying the Arabic language. He spent the summer semester acad. 2007/08. on specialist studies in comparative studies of religions, evangelical theology and Judaism at the Evangelical Faculty (Evangelisch-Theologische Fakultät) of the Eberhard Karls University in Tübingen (Germany). As part of the Erasmus program he spent two-month research stays in 2018 and 2019 as a PhD student at the University of Tübingen. The areas and topics of his academic and scientific interest are: Qur'anic exegesis and hermeneutics (tafsir), history and methodology of tafsir, contemporary schools of tafsir (modern tafsir), Qur'anic and tafsir studies in the West, German Orientalism, historical criticism, Theodor Nöldeke, exegetical historicism, Qur'anic criticism, biblical criticism, literary tafsir, translation of the Qur'an, interpretation of the Qur'an in Bosnia and Herzegovina, theology/s of interreligious dialogue, theology of religions, comparative theology, Scriptural reasoning.
